DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1-10, it is not clear if the invention is a method (a therapeutic treatment consists essentially is recited in the preamble of the claim) or an article/product claim (a sock or stocking). In claim 1, it is not clear as to what the pressure relieving pad is in reference to. In claim 1, it is not clear if the bandage is the foot shaped sock or stocking. In claim 1, the word "pad-like" should be changed to read – padded --. In claim 1, the example of the type of material (textile of natural or artificial) should be deleted or positively recited in the claim 1. In claim 2, lines 3-4, "for example of a known silicone-based gel type" should be deleted. In claim 4, "i.e. the foot-shaped sock or stocking" should be deleted. In claim 4, "i.e. cavities analogous to the fingers in a glove" should be deleted. In claim 10, "e.g. to heal sores" should be deleted.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Bennett discloses toe shield. Goldmerstein discloses a toe protector. Langenfeld discloses a toe protector. Malpee discloses a foot protector. Although each of these references is pertinent prior art, neither was used to reject any claims, in the first office action.
